Militiamen Parade At Calgary Last Sunday

Thirty-two members of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, from Vulcan and Milo took part in the annual parade and inspection of 22 Militia Group held at Sarcee Camp on Sunday, July 3.

A heavy downpour of rain made it necessary to hold the parade in the drill hall of the Lord Strathcona Horse, where the Area Commander, Brigadier J. S. Ross, DSO, CD, inspected about 700 officers and men. Parade Commander was Brigadier H. T. R. Gregg, CD.

Notwithstanding the difficulties under which the inspection was held, Brig. Ross was pleased with the showing of all units. Speaking to the troops he said:

"I congratulate every one of you on a fine performance which is a credit to your units and to your training. I am satisfied that the considerable increase in militia recruiting and effort is proof in itself that you are responsible citizens doing a fine job for your country. In the face of continuing danger from abroad, I know that your efforts are bound to be recognized by the general public as a vital part of national survival planning."

Presentation of awards followed and among those receiving the Canadian Forces Decoration (CD) for long service was Staff Sgt. L. J. Smith of Milo. Lieutenants M. R. Burgess and L. J. Lucas of Vulcan received their commission scrolls.

Fourteen members of the Highlanders from Vulcan and Milo are attending the week-long militia camp at Sarcee this week, taking National Survival training in rescue, first aid, wireless and radiation monitoring. Two of the Vulcan group, Staff Sgt. Douglas Wilson and L/Cpl. Fred Standing, are on the instructional staff in wireless and rescue, respectively.

The camp, which is operating on daylight saving time, concludes with a two-day Mobile Support Column exercise on Thursday and Friday, with the troops, representing every militia unit in the southern half of the province, returning to their homes on Saturday.

Visitors over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Damaskie were Mrs. Evelyn Stapleford, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Singbell and family, Bill Damaskie of Calgary.

Fish & Game Conducts Survey Picnic Facilities

From the area north and west of town has come the report that a party was seen shooting pheasants recently. It is thought the licence number of the car was taken and if the case was turned in to a game officer, serious charges could be laid. Pheasant hunting is still a full season away and the birds are tame and on the roadways everywhere, making them even more vulnerable.

A survey of picnic facilities and fishing at Lake McGregor and Commodore's Dam area was recently taken by a group including Fish & Game president Bill Holton.

Encouraging signs of a healthier attitude of campers towards cleanliness of these outdoor sites was found. The picnic grounds are generally neat and tidy and the building facilities installed by the Fish and Game Association are in good repair and clean.

Fishing was excellent at the time with trout from one to two pounds being caught at Commodore's Dam. The dam is stocked as is Ueland's but the fish are smaller at the latter point.

To all would-be Antelope hunters, the dates of this year's season have been announced. The six day season runs from October 24 to 29 throughout the province. Number of permits to be issued will be decided after an aerial survey is made in July. Although a draw is made in doling out these

Dinton Fastballers Beat Little Bow

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

Norman Soder

We have approached the time of year when our perianal weeds are showing up. The Canada and sow thistles, which have become quite common in the past few years, are in or are coming into the bud stage and will soon be blooming.

Small patches of the thistle may be destroyed by sterilizing the soil. Larger patches in crop land may be held in check by using 2,4-D at the highest rate recommended for the crop in which the thistles are growing. Patches in summer fallow can also be controlled by spraying with 2,4-D at a heavy rate.

Other perennials such as Toad Flax, Leafy Spurge, Hoary Cress and Bladder Campion are showing up in various parts of the County. These weeds should be treated similar to the thistles. Some are more susceptible to the 2,4-Ds and require heavier doses.

Early control of perennials is very necessary from a practical view point as soil sterilants are very expensive to use over large areas. The earlier the weed is detected and the control started the less the cost will be. Field size infestations can be controlled by extensive cultivation, supplemented by spraying with 2,4-D or by seeding to grass, in very light soils where drifting is caused by too much cultivation, and spraying with 2,4-D.

Any farmer finding a weed that he is unfamiliar with, should bring the plant, including part of the root, to the County office. If the weed cannot be identified here, it will be sent away for positive identification.

Running Out Of Puff

Phidippides was the athlete of Ancient Greece who ran the race from Marathon to Athens and — understandably — "was out of puff." Although travelling light, he found it difficult to catch his breath.

Our society, which is not travelling light, is getting out of puff too, but when the speed of our economic race slows down we will not see our laboured breathing end. This is because — unlike Phidippides — we carry an added burden . . . an affliction called creeping socialism, one of the earliest symptoms of which is a slow suffocation.

Growing parallel to our expanding economy is Big Government, and only when we pause for breath, apparently, will most citizens become fully aware of our affliction. Like cancer, socialism is automatically and steadily expansive and each step taken in the name of the welfare state makes the next step easier. The more it eats, the greater becomes its appetite.

Our servants are becoming masters, as any citizens will soon realize the minute he faces the maze of red tape when he wishes to start a business, open a hot-dog stand, build a garage, or anything else. Government is made possible by taxes alone, yet the expanding bureaucracy is every day getting into competitive business with the private concerns and destroying their ability to pay those taxes. It has to end somewhere.

Let us examine just a few of those inroads: We now have the Canadian National Railway, the Trans-Canada Airlines, the Polymer Corporation Ltd. (synthetic rubber), Northern Transportation Ltd., the Eldorado Mining and Refining Co. Ltd. (uranium ores), the Eldorado Aviation Ltd., the Central Housing and Mortgage Co. Ltd., the Canadian Wheat Board, The Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation, the Canadian Commercial Corporation, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the National Film Board . . . and various other bodies such as the Agricultural Prices Support Board, etc.

Then there are the straight give-away fields where civil servants make a full-time career out of simply giving away tax monies through Family Allowances, Old Age Security, Government Annuities, Federal-Provincial programs for Old Age Assistance, Unemployment Insurance, the Canada Council for the Arts, etc., etc. These have their parallel at the Provincial and sometimes Municipal level too, in everything from handiercrafts to "organized" recreation.

All these offices, departments and companies have continuously growing staffs of clerks, administrators, technical "experts," publicity men, etc., and they are all dedicated to spending tax monies in one way or another.

Yet more serious still is the fact that each has its own private reserve to exploit . . . its own hoop of rules and regulations through which the citizen or private firm must jump. Further, each is armed with some form of built-in authority whereby the bureaucrats are permitted to issue ever more proclamations and regulations to hamstring the voting and tax-paying public representatives in Parliament. We are being gradually smothered.

Is it any wonder that Federal Government expenditures during the past ten years increased at double the rate of corporate profits (165% as against 79%). At this rate we are supplying the funds to finance our eventual servitude, and unless the trend is reversed, our free society could well succumb under the burden.

After all, Phidippides died from his exertions.

Champion Groom At Brooks Wedding

Of interest to many local residents is the recent wedding in Brooks United Church of Carroll Jane Beny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Beny of Brooks and Dr. Richard Nelson Jopling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jopling of Champion.

The bride, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beny of Medicine Hat was born there and spent her early youth in the city. As a student of Medicine Hat Community Art School for some years she twice won the art tuition scholarship to the Banff School of Fine Arts.

The former Miss Beny is a graduate in nursing from Calgary General Hospital.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a classic floor-length gown of white with wide scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves, the simplicity of the widely flared skirt broken by an insert of satin pleats fanning into a train in back. Brief lily-point mittens were worn.

The bridal veil misted to her shoulders from a crown studded with pearls and a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, encircled her throat. For "something borrowed" the bride carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Peter Berry of Billings, Mont., and her bouquet was a modified cascade of deep red roses.

Mrs. Don Resta was matron of honor and the two senior bridesmaids were Misses Joyce Watt and Marlene Long, associates of the bride in her nursing career.

All senior attendants wore waltz-length, cap sleeved replicas of the bride's gown styled in turquoise crystal chain, featuring a fan of pleats as back interest. Turquoise bows adorned their small hats, accessories were in white and they carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Four junior bridesmaids were the bride's second cousins, Frances, Kristine, Rita, and Judy Beny, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. (Chuck) Beny of Medicine Hat.

Attired alike in white frocks, they had pastel sashes to match the ribbon bows forming their headresses and each carried a basket filled with pink carnations. The best man was Gary Jopling, brother of the groom and guests were ushered by the bride's brother, William Beny of Red Deer and Don Marks of Olds.

Mrs. V. Smith presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Patricia Dale, as she sang during the signing of the register.

At a reception held in the church dining room following the ceremony, the bride's mother received guests in a printed silk frock in navy and mauve tones teamed with accessories in matching shades. The groom's mother chose a dress in beige complimented by accessories in brown.

The toast to the bride was proposed by C. M. Chalmers and the bridesmaids were toasted by Gary Jopling.

As some 160 guests from numerous points in Alberta and Montana signed their names in the guest books the bride's second cousins, Milton and Rorie Beny of Medicine Hat, took charge.

For travelling on a wedding trip to Spokane, Coeur d'Alene and Radium Hot Springs, the bride changed to a silk sheath of black and white dot design topped by a white coat and teamed with black accessories. A mauve orchid was worn on corsage.

Dr. and Mrs. Jopling have taken up residence in Calgary.

PEST ACT REVISED

Among business of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta this spring was consideration and approval of the Agricultural Pests Act — 1960. This was chiefly a matter of bringing the former Act up-to-date. In grasshopper control for instance, changes have been made to replace obsolete sections on baits with others referring to the use of dust and spray insecticides.

Under the new Act also, it is now the responsibility of Albertans not only to destroy pests already established on their premises but to take active measures to prevent such establishment. Much of this is merely common sense procedure. In the rat-invaded areas of eastern Alberta, farmers have often been most co-operative in setting out baits on their premises before the rats appeared so that possible infestation might be stopped at the source. Similarly, with the bacteria ring rot disease of potatoes, clean seed and sanitary storage have far outweighed in value methods of preventing spread of the disease when it appeared.

As of March, 1960, 10 per cent of all Canadians in the 18-to-21 age group are attending universities.

During the 1958-59 season "sports men" enjoying the privileges of Quebec province's game and fish areas paid $91,030 in fines for infraction of fish and game laws.

He shall not speak of himself

... He shall glorify me.

—John 16:13, 14.

The Holy Ghost would occupy us with Christ (Acts 7:55, 56). The Father directs attention to Him (Matt. 17:5). The Word of God testifies of Him (John 5:39). He is the Object of faith; He is the Object of love; He is the Object of hope; and the faith, or love, or hope, that does not make Him the Object is spurious and unreal. He is all for my path; He is all for my service; He is all for my worship; blessed, blessed be His name. He is not on the cross, He is not in the grave; He is on the throne. It is not surprising that Peter should say, "Unto you therefore which believe he is precious."

Around here, you're lucky enough to have a local crop of Saskatoons—a fruit that doesn't grow in many parts of Canada. Here's our recipe for making these unusual berries into an unusually delicious jam!

SASKATOON JAM

4½ cups prepared fruit (about 1½

qts. ripe Saskatoon berries)

2 tablespoons lemon juice (1 lemon)

7 cups (8 lbs.) sugar

1 bottle Certo-fruit-pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Crush thoroughly about 1½ qts. fully ripe Saskatoon berries. Measure 4½ cups into a very large saucepan. Squeeze juice from 1 lemon and measure 2 tablespoons into pan with berries. Heat gently until juice starts to flow. Simmer covered for 15 minutes.

Then make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in Certo at once. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle into glasses. Cover at once with ½ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 12 medium glasses.

Preserving Pointers. Do not set hot jars from the canner in a draft or on a cold wet surface. This sudden temperature change may cause them to burst. Set them on a folded cloth or board instead. Never attempt to reprocess canned foods that have just begun to spoil.

If you ever run into a problem while making your jam and jelly, be sure to let us know. We'll be glad to help. Be with you again soon, so watch for our next column.
